Official Document Cover Page

York University official documents are issued directly through MyCreds™ which is owned by the Association of Registrars of the Universities and Colleges of Canada (ARUCC) and powered by Digitary, a trusted international verified digital credential platform. MyCreds™ ensures document authenticity. When transcripts, credentials, and any other documents are issued through MyCreds™, they are verifiable, secure, and include a cryptographic signature.

If you have received a notification of this document from noreply@mycreds.ca and a link to access it through MyCreds™, you are viewing a certified official document that you can trust. A document routed to you as an attachment from an individual personal email is not official and may not reflect the most recent version.

When viewed in PDF format in Adobe 9.0 or later, this document has a number of security features described below. These security features do not apply to a printed copy. Under no circumstance should a printed copy be relied upon as it could be subject to tampering. This document is shared as a single-use transaction between the learner and the recipient and downloads are for record keeping purposes only. Forwarding or reproducing this document will render the document not valid.

Security information

To verify the authenticity of the digital document, make sure you are accessing it online via a link to the document on MyCreds™. The link will start with <https://learner.mycreds.ca>.

When viewed in PDF format in Adobe 9.0 (or later), the digital signature of the document should be interpreted as follows:

The blue-ribbon symbol signifies that the contents of the document have not been altered after it was downloaded. It does not signify its currency (it may have been revoked or replaced by the institution or organization with a more up to date document). If the document does not display a valid certification and signature message, reject this document immediately.

This symbol with a red cross signifies that the issued document is invalid. An invalid digital certificate display means either the digital signature is not authentic, or the document has been altered. A document with an invalid digital signature display should be rejected.

This symbol signifies that the Author is Unknown. Author Unknown can have two possible meanings: The document is a self-signed document or has been issued by an unknown or untrusted authority and therefore has not been trusted. If you receive this message, make sure you are properly connected to the internet. If you have a connection and you still cannot validate the digital signature on-line, reject this document.

This symbol indicates that Adobe needs to validate the signatures. You will need to follow the instructions to validate the signature. Should the signature validate successfully, you will be presented with the blue-ribbon symbol above. If it cannot validate the signature, the red cross will be presented.

This document is available for viewing until the expiry date set by the Learner. If your access has expired, you will need to contact the Learner to request a new share of the document. MyCreds™ cannot reissue documents.

Université York

Les documents d'études officiels de l'Université York vous sont transmis directement à partir de MesCertif^{MC}. MesCertif^{MC} est détenu par l'Association des registraires des universités et collèges du Canada (ARUCC) et est alimenté par Digitary, une plateforme internationale de documents numérisés certifiés. Lorsque des relevés de notes, des diplômes et autres documents sont transmis par l'entremise de MesCertif^{MC}, ils sont vérifiables, sécurisés et dotés d'une signature cryptographique ; MesCertif^{MC} en assure l'authenticité.

Si vous avez reçu un avis de réception de document de la part de noreply@mycreds.ca et un lien pour y accéder par l'intermédiaire de MesCertif^{MC}, soyez assuré que vous consultez un document officiel certifié auquel vous pouvez faire confiance. Un document qui vous est envoyé en pièce jointe d'un courriel personnel n'est pas officiel et pourrait ne pas correspondre à la version la plus récente.

Lorsque les documents provenant de MesCertif^{MC} sont consultés en format PDF dans Adobe 9.0 ou une version ultérieure, ils comportent un certain nombre d'éléments de sécurité qui sont décrits ci-dessous. Ces éléments de sécurité ne s'appliquent pas à une version imprimée. Vous ne devriez en aucun cas vous fier à la copie imprimée puisqu'elle pourrait avoir été trafiquée. Le document qui vous parvient par le biais de MesCertif^{MC} est partagé dans une transaction unique entre l'étudiant et le destinataire et les téléchargements ne devraient servir qu'à des fins d'archivage. Le transfert ou la reproduction de ce document le rend non valide.

Éléments de sécurité

Pour vérifier l'authenticité d'un document numérique, assurez-vous d'y accéder en ligne en vous servant du lien vers le document sur MesCertif^{MC}. Le lien commencera par : <https://learner.mycreds.ca>. Lorsque le document est consulté en format PDF avec Adobe 9.0 (ou une version ultérieure), la signature numérique doit être interprétée comme suit :

Le symbole du ruban bleu indique que le contenu n'a pas été modifié après son téléversement. Ça ne signifie pas qu'il est à date (l'établissement d'enseignement ou l'organisme pourrait l'avoir annulé ou remplacé par un document plus récent). Si le document n'affiche pas une certification valide et un message de signature, rejetez-le immédiatement.

Ce symbole, qui comporte une croix rouge, indique que le document transmis n'est pas valide. Si le certificat numérique est non valide c'est soit que la signature numérique n'est pas authentique, soit que le document a subi une modification. Un document qui affiche une signature numérique non valide doit être rejeté.

Ce symbole qui indique que l'auteur est inconnu peut avoir deux significations : (1) que le document est auto-signé, (2) qu'il a été émis par une autorité inconnue ou non approuvée. Conséquemment, ce document n'est pas fiable. Si ce message s'affiche, assurez-vous d'être correctement connecté à l'Internet. Si vous disposez d'une bonne connexion et que vous ne pouvez tout de même pas valider la signature numérique en ligne, rejetez le document.

Ce symbole indique qu'Adobe doit valider les signatures. Vous devrez suivre les instructions pour valider la signature. Si la signature est validée avec succès, le symbole du ruban bleu (voir ci-dessus) s'affichera. Si la signature ne peut être validée c'est le symbole de la croix rouge qui s'affichera.

Le document qui vous est transmis est disponible pour consultation en fonction de la date d'expiration fixée par l'étudiant. Si votre accès a expiré, vous devrez communiquer avec l'étudiant pour lui demander de partager le document à nouveau. MesCertif^{MC} n'est pas en mesure de retransmettre des documents.

Pour de plus amples renseignements à propos des documents électroniques, veuillez vous référer à la foire aux questions à l'intention des destinataires de partages (employeurs, établissements d'enseignement et autres). Vous y trouverez des réponses aux questions de sécurité, de validité et de vérification des documents. La foire aux questions est disponible à l'adresse <https://mescertif.ca/verificateurs/faq-pour-les-verificateurs/>.
